

East London Cabbie's Outing

Cab drivers give disabled school children day out

On Wednesday 1st July, a stream of London cabs, festooned in balloons and ribbons poured out of the Boleyn Ground in Upton Park at 10am. It could only be the East London Cabbie's Outing.

Early on Wednesday morning the drivers began assembling at the Boleyn Ground. There was a flurry of colour and noise as the cars were dressed up. This year's theme was pirates and inflatable skeletons with wide grins stretched across their faces clung to the roofs of many full day of fares to take the children to Maldon but many also contributed as much as £200 to the cause as well as decorating their cabs and paying for the petrol. Yet it was clear that there was nowhere that any of the group would rather be. And with a cry of: "Load up, boys, please" the merry crew set sail.

The low rumble of engines underscored slamming taxi doors and the continuous laughter of the children. Horns started to whistle into the melody. Several drivers had personalised the tunes that their cabs sung and a cacophony of a crescendo gave the starter shot to the police and motorbike escort. When the Boleyn Ground could no longer contain the fanfare, the entire convoy burst onto an unsuspecting Green Street and set sail for Maldon.

The first Outing was held in 1952, taking East End children with disabilities on a day trip to the riverside town of Maldon. Over 60 cabs. They had good reason to be on edge, Wednesday was the hottest day of summer so far and the day was started with a bang as the thick air was regularly punctuated with the sound of popping balloons.

The high spirits of the assembled, drivers and children, created an irresistible atmosphere of wellbeing. As cab driver Lee told me: "Good actions is my theme of the day: good thoughts; good deeds; good vibes."

Good actions is right, all of the drivers involved not only gave up a

Report: Plashet Learning Mentor Symposium

Positive response to skill-sharing event

Plashet School's award winning Coaching and Mentoring Department (Times Educational Supplement - Support Staff of the Year 2013) held their first Learning Mentor Symposium on Tuesday 16th June 2015.

With 15 delegates in attendance from various types of education settings, including local and national schools and Pupil Referral Units, the symposium provided a forum for Learning Mentors and Pastoral Staff to share best practice for better outcomes and to discuss the challenges and successes within their roles as well as how they fitted into their establishments. Topics focussed upon included:

- What is mentoring and how to make it work in educational settings?
- The Mentoring Process – including entrance and exit procedures
- The importance of data, record keeping and effective tracking and monitoring of student progress

The Coaching and Mentoring Department (CMD) would like to thank all the delegates that attended and assisted in making the symposium a success.

Feedback was extremely positive and included:

"I really enjoyed learning new ways of working. Will take back assessment resources and ideas on how to make our mentoring more effective"

"It will help me become more organised and reliable at school"

"This will allow me to support the students and hopefully remove their barriers to learning"

"Help me to be more successful in my work with children and other team member"

"I will be hoping to pilot the things I have learnt today relating to data, evidence etc"

Newham Primary Geography Bee

Dersingham wins the inaugural competition

Elmhurst Primary school was proud to host the inaugural Newham Primary Geography Bee, which 12 local schools attended. The event was designed to promote the children's knowledge of Geography.

Participants had to learn and memorise countries and their capital cities, locate them on maps and recognise their flags. Each team of three children spent months preparing and researching a wide variety of factual knowledge, including both human and physical Geography.

Elmhurst said that: "The day was a great success and ran very smoothly; teachers and children were rapt in attention, and an enjoyable day was had by all".

The winner of this year's Geography Bee was the team from Dersingham Primary School who won by a single point.

The children that had taken part in this competition had to know how to work independently to discover a wide range of global facts such as the wonders of the Ancient and Modern worlds, the differences between the highest and tallest mountain and the population demographics of countries around the world.

This event was held by Jonny Walker, Elmhurst's Geography co-ordinator. Jonny wishes to thank all schools who took part this year, and invites any other Newham Primary Schools to get in touch with him to participate in the 2016 Tournament, which will take place next May.

Rokeby's New Student Leaders

National College for Teaching and Leadership qualified teachers database

Following a rigorous application process, four year 10 students at Rokeby School have been appointed to student leadership positions.

In a very closely contested election Bilal Khan got the vote for student leader with Silvio Oiliveiro Silva being his deputy. Khaledur Rahman and Simon Senyange took the other two deputy leader roles. All four boys are in year 10.

Ms Shergill said: " the quality of the written applications were amazing and the interview process left me in no doubt that we are educating leaders for the future".

Every adult and student in the school had one vote for student leader and one for deputy leader to for the next academic year.

Safer Recruitment Training

The next Safer Recruitment training course will be held on Wednesday 30th September.

The course lasts for one day and is provided free for schools as part of the HR SLA.

Participants will:

- Look at how safer recruitment fits within the wider context of safeguarding and promoting the welfare of children
- Look at the importance of following a consistent and thorough process to obtain relevant information about each job applicant
- Consider the importance of using structured interviews, and pre-employment checks on selected candidates
- Examine the need for ongoing awareness and vigilance and consider how organisations can develop and maintain an environment that deters and prevents abuse and challenges inappropriate behaviour

Participants will be expected to complete an assessment to test their understanding of the training material.

NB: Participants who have previously completed the course will need to have a refresher after 5 years has expired. Participants can attend the course or complete the training online at: <http://www.nspcc.org.uk/what-you-can-do/get-expert-training/safer-recruitment-education-course>

Places are limited, contact Rosalind.Sarwan@npw.so to register on the course.

Background

Gallions Primary School is a community school for children aged 3-11, based in Beckton in the London Borough of Newham. Despite the school being situated in an area identified as within the top 5% for deprivation in the country, Gallions has gained a reputation as an example of best practice in a deprived area. The academic achievement of pupils at the school has far exceeded expectation, a fact that is unequivocally linked to the school's creative ethos. Music is central to the school's educational philosophy and this approach addresses the different learning styles that children possess, making learning particularly accessible to the substantial number of children whose first language is not English (62%) and those who have a special educational need or disability.

Role overview

We are looking for someone to provide professional development and leadership of music at Gallions Primary School. This role requires someone who can identify priority areas to focus on and who has the vision to address them creatively and strategically, to ensure that all children have access to the highest quality provision and musical opportunities, regardless of background or ability.

The Music Development Manager will work to build and strengthen relationships with current and potential donors, complete grant applications for funding and manage ongoing communications with funders, and find new and creative ways to gain support, whether financial or other, for the development of the extensive music programme at Gallions Primary School.

Start date and working hours

Start date for this position is negotiable, although the post-holder would ideally be available to start in early September. Although office hours are normally 09:00-17:00, there may occasionally be the need to work different or additional hours as discussed with your line manager.

Additional information

This post is subject to enhanced CRB/DBS disclosure.

Ideally you will already have experience of working in a school and will have knowledge and understanding of using of SIMS Management Information Systems.

A requirement of this post is that the successful applicant will need to work during the last two weeks of August each year.

Stratford School Academy is a good school situated in a part of London that is home to many faiths and cultures, we have recently moved into the first of our new development of buildings with exceptional resources and facilities. Our pupils behave extremely well and, most importantly, they do this even when we are not looking. We believe that if we are going to be as successful in the future, it is important to us that we recruit the best staff who want to work with us to ensure our pupils receive an outstanding education.

This is a great opportunity for a SIMS / Admissions Administrator to make a striking impact at SSA as we expand from a 6 to 10 form entry school.

At Stratford School Academy you will find:

Access to CPD programmes based on progressively introducing proven high impact teaching strategies and techniques through systematic shared practice - in our annual survey 75% of our staff agreed or strongly agreed that we make appropriate provision for their professional development
 Excellent resources and facilities

Enthusiastic pupils who are eager to learn with parents who support and value the school

The chance to be part of a hard-working group of staff who are serious about maximising the achievement of our pupils and are willing to go the extra mile to make it happen

We are keen that potential applicants come and see us please contact Ellie on 0207 259

8770 to arrange a time to visit.
